Succulentastic!

It's looking like the Huntington will be hosting a free Desert Garden tour and sale for all local CSSA and C&SS club members on January 19th, but details will be forthcoming in the January issue. We're hoping that this will become an annual event given how wonderful the garden - especially the aloes - look at that time of year. I'll be missing the Orange County C&SS Annual Winter Show and Sale at the Fullerton Arboretum on 12/1, but I hope some of our club members make their way down there, especially if you missed San Gabriel's recent show at the Arboretum. Remember that winter shows feature a different color display than what we see in our flurry of summer shows. This month's pic is of an "airplant airplane" I made out of Tillandsias for the Huntington's Teaching Greenhouse, replete with 2 T. bulbosas for bombs...or, for those antiviolent plantheads, you can just think of it as a boy plane! See you all at the holiday event, and I look forward to everyone's support and input as I begin my term as president.

CACTUS RAMBLINGS by Walt. Wegner

We had another great meeting with a good turn-out & a super program presented by Steven Hammer on Mesembs with lots of questions & answers.

The POM contest went well, however several novice members failed to fill out their entry card completely. PLEASE print you name & print the name of your plants being entered. In last month's POM contest there was one entry with no name & four with a partial name that I could not determine who it was. The POM winners for the year have been tabulated & they will be awarded plants at this HOLIDAY PARTY meeting. The POM plants for 2008 are in this Chronicle & the rules remain the same except that the "Open" category will not be eligible for the annual awards due to limited number of entries. We will not be entering any plants in the POM contest in 2008, time & tide are taking their toll on us & we cannot handle large plants too well anymore, so come on you ADVANCED MEMBERS bring lot of plants. This month's meeting will be our ANNUAL HOLIDAY PARTY so everyone is urged to come to the meeting & bring spouses, significant others, friends, neighbors or anyone else to have a great time with lots of good stuff to eat & many super plants to bid on at the auction. NOW BACK TO CACTUS RAMBLINGS. Where do I start? Well for one thing we are still waiting for some significant rain & in the mean time we have to keep our plants watered but not too wet & to pick-up several tall ones when the wind howls. We have a cement draining ditch along the back of our yard which we now just about have covered with a good wood decking so we can put many plants in this area, so here we go again moving many, many plants around which is something that we seem to be doing constantly. We are going to get organized one of these days, we hope. We are preparing our greenhouse for the winter & will hook up the heater soon. We will also start moving some of the more frost sensitive plants back into the greenhouse. We have also been having fun with succulents by planting a two foot border of them along one side of our yard. We just took cuttings & stick them in the ground & they are doing great. A word of caution & that is to watch where your plants are in relation to the lower sun & be sure that they get plenty of sun or part sun as needed so they won't ediolate (sp?) for lack of enough light. How are your succulents doing that were hard hit with our January freeze? As we have said before, we discarded most of them & just started new plants from the cuttings. Those that we cut back & kept are still not doing too well as many of these succulents take years to reach an attractive size. WELL, it is time to close this edition of CACTUS RAMBLINGS so remember what we always do & that is to DOUBLE TAG our plants.
